

ARTS/ ENTERTAINMENT

• The Dance, the first film produced by Flynn-Daines Productions LLC of Salt Lake City, has won the Redemptive Storytelling Award at the Redemptive Film Festival in Virginia Beach, Va. The Redemptive Film Festival is aimed at providing a forum for filmmakers to showcase their work on themes that depict the redemptive purposes of God. It is the first film made by LDS filmmakers to win the Christian-based award, and helps bridge the gap between the mainstream Christian and Mormon film communities. The Dance is scheduled for release in movie theaters on Feb. 2. It was directed by McKay Daines and produced by Michael Flynn, who also stars in the movie.